

ONE TRANS SHOW

Confessions of a GenderTrash Reject

Just what America needed -- a comic with a sex-change and an attitude. Edgy, funny, or angry but always equal parts outraged and outrageous, activist/provocateur Riki Wilchins takes on the gender binary, gay rights, the sex change establishment, testosterone, political correctness, and the Michigan Womyn's Music Festival in a no-holds-barred evening of queer theory, stand-up comedy, and personal monologue that leaves no rhinestone unturned and no slip showing. A compelling and intimate voyage of self-discovery, "One Trans Show" will leave you rethinking everything you think you know about bodies, sex & gender.

Wilchins is founder of the protest group Transsexual Menace and author of Read My Lips: Sexual Subversion & the End Of Gender, Queer Theory/Gender Theory: An Instant Primer, and Genderqueer: Voices from Beyond the Sexual Binary.

In 2005 Time Magazine selected her one of "100 civic Innovators for the 21st Century."

Riki's work has appeared in publications like Social Text, Village Voice, Curve, and The Advocate, and anthologies like Woman on Woman, Pomosexuals, Out at Work, Feminist Frontiers, and Language Awareness.

Speaking Engagement Requirements

All engagements must include travel and accommodations.

Please let us know your special requirements for events or topics.

Contact:
bookings@menaceproductions.org
for availability and details.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

"Man-to-man, one of the best shows around"

— The Crossdressing Times

"She's a HE!" — Paramus Drag Chronicle

"Better-looking in a dress than my own husband."

— Charleston Hog Hunter's Gazette